Farm Bureau Notes

Junior Week at Lexington
June 25-30 is a week that Junior Agricultural Club members all over the state will long remember. A large number from each county are receiving instruction in better methods of farming and entertainment at the state fair.

George Franklin Walker was the only boy that received the free trip from Crittenden county. This trip was given them thru the generosity of the Oliver Chilled Plow Company. Walter Walker was accompanied by Miss Myrtle King. Miss Myrtle King has charge of the boys and will see that their trip is a safe one. Tell for the boys account of the trip in next weeks paper.

Cover Crops
About twenty percent of the tillable land in Kentucky or an average of 100 acres to the county have been seriously washed and gullied. The result that their usefulness in producing crops has been greatly reduced according to specialists on soil. While the expense of re-planting eroded land is great, much of the washing and leaching may be prevented by the use of cover crops. A cover crop is any crop seeded in the fall to protect soils from washing and washing during the winter. Fields have been found to give most when plowed and left for during the winter season. Much rich tillable land should never have been cultivated but even a bare field with a gentle slope will erode and wash into gullies.

To protect a field from this injury the best practice is to have the land covered by a soil or cover crop. A cover crop of rye will send its roots deep into the surface soil and these together with the top growth will form a water protection. The poorer the soil the more a cover crop is needed since it is the poor soil which erodes most rapidly. It is a profitable practice many times, on a poor soil to use a phosphate fertilizer to insure greater growth of the roots at top of the cover crop.

The best information we have on erosion eradication work in Crittenden county is that it will start by noon after the 4th of July.

The Fendricks Cream Association is running very successfully. They have a large volume of butter-fat, which is the highest bidder and every one gets a square deal. There will be a meeting announced at an early date for further work on the Marion Cooperative Cream Association.

Green foods such as cabbage, lettuce, green beans and currants when mixed with arsenicals are looked upon with doubt by many housewives. Experiments have shown that there is absolutely no danger in using such vegetables for foods. In some experiments cabbage was treated with lead arsenate at the ordinary strength and then treated to remove all the arsenic which was actually washed. From the results I was told that the average person would have to consume 28 heads of washed cabbage at one meal to have even the first symptoms of arsenic from arsenic poison.

Also, the experiment proves that sprayed garden crops are not dangerous, some care should be exercised in their use. Such sprayed crops as cabbage or lettuce should be washed before going to the table.

JOHN K. HENDRIX DIES

John K. Hendrix died last Monday in his home at Paducah. He was one of the leading lawyers of the state. He was twice the nominee of the Democratic party for state office but was defeated each time. Mr. Hendrix was at one time the Deputy Sheriff of this county.

JUDGE GREEN HONORED

Judge Harry F. Green, of Smithland, who is a candidate for the office of State Senator from this district, was elected to a position of honor and rank.

Judge Green was unanimously elected a life member of the United States Good Roads Association at the ninth annual meeting of the Association which met at Greensboro, N. C., on the 18 and 23rd days of April 1921. This entitles the judge to membership in the General Council which shapes the policies of the good roads movement in this state and nation.

The United States Good Roads Association has for its object the uniting of all the state and county good roads associations and individuals, to promote state and federal legislation to build inter state and national highways.

It is an honor to be a life member of this association as there are only seven in Kentucky and the Association does not court or solicit subscriptions, donations or members.

HORRIBLE DEATH

Clarence Conger, little son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Conger, was run over with a roller Monday morning. He was alone in the field and as he returned from the house, where he had gone for a drink of water, he fell in front of the roller and was run over and his head and chest were badly crushed. He was found dead about noon and the body was cold.

The remains were buried Tuesday at Pilot Knob. Rev. W. P. Meroney conducted the funeral.

Cash on hand not yet invested 169.85

The Committee desires to express its appreciation of the hearty response received from the lot owners this year. The appearance of the Cemetery speaks of this. If your name is not on the paid list, see the Secretary at once.

MRS. W. B. YANDELL, Treas.

SCHOOL BONDS SOLD

The Farmers Bank & Trust Co. this week bought the $20,000.00 in School Bonds which were issued to erect a High School building for Marion. The Farmers Bank and Trust Co. bought the Bonds at par which was $250.00 more than anyone else offered for the Bonds. This speaks well for the bank and also for the business ability of the Marion City Board of Education.

The Board of Education states that the new building for our High School is a certainty.

KOPP-DOLLAR

Mr. Malcom Dollar, of this city, and Miss Fern Kopp, of Indiana, were married at Corydon, Ind., Sunday evening at 8:00. They arrived in Marion Tuesday and are visiting at the home of Mr. Dollar's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. U. Dollar, on East Depot Street.

The bride is one of Indiana's winning young ladies. Mr. Dollar is a Marion boy and a splendid fellow. He was formerly connected with the Job Department of the Press. Besides being a jolly good fellow he is an excellent printer. He now has a good position with the Press at LaFollette, Tenn.

The Press extends congratulations.

PICNIC AT ORMES PARK

On Tuesday Misses Bertie Travis and Rubie Chandler, of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church, took their Sunday School Class on a picnic to Ormes Park near town.

After some good music a most bounteous luncheon consisting of all the good things which go to make a successful picnic, was served and enjoyed by all.

J. H. Porter has been visiting in Rosiclare.

Biggest of Graduating Classes

T. H. COCHRAN & CO'S WINDOW ADVERTISING

For the last few weeks T. H. Cochran and Co. have been placing these separate articles in their big show window each day on special sale. These have been genuine sales and the articles offered have all been bargains. One day last week they offered among other things aluminum tea kettles for $1. Another day they offered guaranteed inner tubes at $1.50 each. Each day they have three different articles in the window at bargain prices. It will pay you to read their advertisements in the Press and when you are in town pay special attention to their show windows.

NOTICE

Notice is hereby given to the owners of property abutting on the public highways in Crittenden County, Kentucky, to comply with the law as passed by a recent act of the Legislature, which is as follows:

Section 432A Kentucky Statutes. An act for the improvement of the Public Highways of this Commonwealth.

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky:

1. That it shall be the duty of every owner, controller and manager of lands bordering and abutting on the public highways of this Commonwealth, for the distance which their land so abuts and borders, when so ordered by the Fiscal Court of his County, to cut, clear away, remove and carry from alongside the public highways, all bushes, weeds, shrubs and overhanging limbs of trees and all other such obstructions along such highways and to keep all hedge fences along such highways trimmed and cut back, that same at no time will be more than five feet high.

2. The brush, bushes, weeds, overhanging limbs of trees and all other obstructions along the highways of the several counties of this Commonwealth are to be removed therefrom between the first day of July and the 30th day of August of every year, and it shall be the duty of the County Road Engineer of the several counties of this Commonwealth to publish in some county paper of the county in which they act for at least two consecutive weeks before the first of July every year and to give notice by handbills posted in not less than ten conspicuous places in each voting precincts of their counties outside of the incorporated towns the requirements of this act and the duties incumbent on such persons as own, control and manage lands bordering and abutting on the public highways.

Every person who violates the provisions of this act by failure to perform the duties as herein required shall, on conviction, be fined in a sum of not less than Twenty Dollars nor more than Fifty Dollars, and the County Road Engineer shall, on conviction be fined in the sum of not less than twenty-five dollars nor more than one hundred dollars for his failure to publish the notice as herein required.

J. A. Pickens, of Tribune, was in Marion Saturday and reported his crop in good shape.

SUNDAY SERVICES AT FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH

9:30 A. M. Sunday School. Education Day with a special program on Christian Education.
11 A. M. The pastor, W. P. Meroney, will preach on "The Basis of Christian Education."
8 P. M. The evening sermon will be the third in a series of Character studies—"The Wisdom of a Little Man."
All Always Welcome.

ANNOUNCES FOR SENATOR

Mr. R. L. Kennedy of Lola, Livingston County, was in Marion Tuesday and announced his candidacy for State Senator from this district composed of Livingston, Crittenden and Union counties. Mr. Kennedy has always affiliated with the Democratic party. He is a successful farmer and has been a leader in his section in growing blooded stock. He is a graduate of Valparaiso University, Indiana and formerly taught school here.

He is a gentleman who stands high in the esteem of the people who know him. His many friends solicited him so strongly that he decided to make the race for Senator.

WANTED

100 PAIRS OF SHOES to Shine daily at Hunt's Barber Shop at 5c. HENRY LONG

DOES IT PAY TO ADVERTISE IN THE PRESS?

For two weeks the T. H. Cochran and Co. ran a quarter page advertisement for their Chevrolet automobiles. The first of the next week we called Mr. J. Alvis Stephens, who is the advertising man for the T. H. Cochran Co., and asked if he wanted to run the ad again and be replied "No, we've already sold all the Chevrolet cars we have on hand."

Cochran and Co. believe in advertising. Does it pay? Well you can draw your own conclusions. The facts are before you.

CASAD.

E. T. Franklin is some better at this writing.

Watts Franklin is very sick.

Jerry Belt and son are on the sick list.

Mr. H. C. Franklin and family returned to their home in Marion Tuesday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. Adams spent the week end in Marion.

Miss Irene Bracy and John Flannery went to Marion Saturday.

Walker Cook and Gilliam Bracy attended the ball game at Tolu Saturday.

Misses Davie Hurley and Birdie Lindsey visited Sybil Thomas Saturday.

T. H. Carter went to Marion Saturday.

Al Easley and family visited in this neighborhood last week.

Dr. T. A. Frazer has been in Louisville for some time.

ANNOUNCES CANDIDACY

In this issue of the Press you will see the announcement of Mr. Ferguson of Smithland, as a candidate before the Republican Primary for re-election to the office of Commonwealth Attorney for this Judicial District. Mr. Ferguson is serving his first term in this office. He has made a faithful, diligent attorney, looking after the interests of the Commonwealth. He has made many friends who will gladly support him again. He is a lawyer of no mean ability.

BARBECUE

On Friday of last week the Men's Class of the First Baptist Church gave a sumptuous barbecue at the Orme's Park. The Park had been decorated splendidly for the occasion.

About 129 men met, all good humored and in good trim for the occasion. Mr. Runyan had been selected to superintend the occasion and he proved to be an adept at such affairs. Judge Carl Henderson is the teacher of the class.

After the bounteous dinner, consisting of barbecued lamb and shooat, soft drinks were served then followed some excellent music by the orchestra, quartets and solos. Rev. Dillon and W. P. Meroney and others then made short addresses. The congregation sang "God be With You Till We Meet Again". Rev. W. P. Meroney concluded with a prayer and benediction. This closed a most delightful and enjoyable afternoon.

A number of visitors were present to enjoy the occasion with Class No. 12. The Men's Classes of the various churches are planning to give a big Brotherhood Barbecue next year.

NOTICE

All claims against the estate of B. W. Belt must be presented properly proven in the next thirty (30) days else they will be barred of settlement.

A. W. WATSON, Adm.
This the 24th day of June, 1921

CROSS LANES

Mrs. Lucy Crayne and Mrs. Myrtle Oliver spent Sunday the guest of Mrs. Addie Stenbridge.

Mr. Henry Brown and Mr. Roy Crayne spent Sunday the guests of Mr. W. B. Stenbridge.

Miss Catherine Reed returned home last Saturday from Lexington where she was a student at the University.

THE CHAUTAUQUA

The Redpath Chautauqua has been here since last Saturday, giving entertainments afternoon and night and the regular Children's Hour in the forenoon.

The entertainments have all been first class and have been enjoyed by large crowds.

The Chapel Singers, who appeared on the second day, were especially well received. They rendered a program of both sacred and operatic selections, with solos, quartets and pianologs. Montville Flowers, the well known publicist delivered his great address "America Looking Ahead", on the first night of the Chautauqua. In his address he presented the principles upon which the future life and happiness of the nation depends. Katherine Ridgeway was one of the greatest features of the program to date. Her art was enthusiastically received by a large and appreciative audience.

To mention all the good points of the program this year would be nearly impossible. It is only necessary to say that the program measures up to the high standard of the Redpath Chautauqua. The whole affair has been of the best, nothing shoddy or cheap. It is to be hoped that Marion has another next year.

ANNOUNCEMENT

To the Voters of the Fourth Judicial District:

I hereby announce myself a candidate for re-election to the office of Commonwealth's Attorney and ask for your support and endorsement. I am deeply grateful for the honor bestowed upon me by election to this important office and I have served you to the best of my ability and if re-elected I pledge to you faithful service.

I believe in a fair, honest and impartial administration of official duties and my record as such officer has been made. I believe I have a just and reasonable claim for endorsement by re-election and believe that the good people of this District appreciate the splendid economic and prompt management of our Circuit Court during the present administration.

I thank my friends who have urged me to seek this office again for their interest in my behalf.

Redeeming Trait.

"I know I'm old, but I'm crazy about you," stated Mr. Moneybags. "When I go I'll leave all my fortune to you if you'll have me."

"Have you any bad habits?" asked Miss Goldielocks, thoughtfully.

"Only that I walk in my sleep, if you could call that a bad habit."

"You dear old thing. Of course I'll marry you. And we'll have our honeymoon on the top floor of some tall hotel, won't we?"—American Legion Weekly.

Surgeon's Job.

Collectors of customs, being constantly on the watch for smugglers, have certain demands which they repeat almost unconsciously. Not long ago a tourist came ashore with a badly swollen cheek.

"What have you there?" asked the customs officer, pointing to the swelling.

"An abscess, sir," was the reply.
"Well," said the officer, impatiently,
"open it, please."—Boston Transcript.

A Specialist.

"Will you do a little work around the place if I give you your breakfast?" asked the farmer's wife.

"Yes, ma'am," replied the tattered stranger, "if it's the kind of work for which I am best fitted."

"What kind is that?"

"I'm an expert repairer of pipe organs."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Expectancies.

"Your constituents expect a great deal of you."

"Yes," replied Senator Sorghum.
"Expectation properly managed is an asset. My success in politics is due to the fact that while I was often compelled to disappoint my friends I always managed to keep 'em hopeful."

Significant Brevities.

"I suppose you are prepared to deliver some great speeches."

"Not long ones," replied Senator Sorghum. "One word may decide the future of a man in my position. Everything depends on whether you know just when to say 'Aye' and when to say 'No.'"

THE?

He: Don't you think we could marry on my salary?
She: Yes, but could we stay married?

The Law of Compensation.

My son, beware the cares that lurk
in a dishonest hurry.
A grafter doesn't do much work—
but how he has to worry!

Economy.

"You favor strict economy, of course."

"Yes," replied Senator Sorghum.
"But my attitude toward economy is a good deal the same as my attitude toward the violin. I want the other fellow to do the practicing and let me do the applauding."

Support.

"Why do you have those ralls there? Is it to prevent people from stealing your goods?"

"No. They are for people to catch hold of when they hear of our prices."
—Copenhagen Raxxon.

Can't Get Away From It.

"This book tells you how to economize."

"Do I need a book to tell me that?"

"Huh?"

"Economy is forced on me. I can't get away from it."

Probably That's It.

"Your new maid is very pretty."

"My husband doesn't think so."

"You mean he's wise enough to say he doesn't think so."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Far From the Madding Crowd.

"Where are those who once drew my carriage?" demanded Yorick Hamm.

"What now?"

"We're out of gasoline."—Louisville
Courier-Journal.

Rightel

Young Multitox—I'll never forget the time I proposed to you.

Miss Malchance—Rightel, old dear!
I don't intend to let you forget it.

Literally So.

Edith—You say his attentions to you have been marked.

Maud—Yes; he has never taken the price tag off his presents.

A new size package!

Ten for 10c.

Very convenient.

Dealers carry both;

10 for 10c; 20 for 20c.

COVERING OVER KITCHEN FLOOR WILL REDUCE SCRUBBING WORK

Unfinished Floors Require Much Work to Keep in Good Condition.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

What is the best material for the kitchen floor, the most practical finish, and the most satisfactory covering are questions much discussed. All housewives agree, however, that the unfinished wooden floor is hard to clean, and putting, oiling or covering it with some washable material saves much labor, say specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture. An unfinished wood floor requires frequent scrubbing, which no matter how thorough, cannot remove spots and stains from some kinds of wood and cause the surface of others to silver and become rough.

Maple Widely Used.

Maple is one of the woods most used for kitchen floors. It is smooth and very durable, and when oiled is proof against grease and water stain. Longleaf Georgia pine and Douglas fir or red spruce are other desirable kinds, and may be painted or oiled. Any kind of wooden flooring should be well seasoned before it is laid to lessen the shrinking and swelling due to changes in temperature and atmospheric conditions. Any cracks in the floor should be filled with putty, or better, with one of the special preparations for the purpose.

There are a variety of concrete and so-called "composition" floor materials now on the market which are advertised for kitchens. They are often easy to clean and do not absorb grease and water when new. Some of them, however, tend to crack and chip with wear, and then are difficult to keep in order. Some are also rather hard and fatiguing to stand on, though this drawback can be overcome somewhat by using mats of rubber, cork or some resilient material. The special paints now on the market make concrete floors easier to care for, less dusty, and more durable.

Linoleum is a very satisfactory covering for the kitchen floor. It is relatively durable, comfortable for the feet, and easy to clean. It is manufactured in a variety of colors, designs and qualities; the better grades will be found most economical in the long run. Varnishing or waxing linoleum is said to protect the surface and makes it wear longer.

Floor oilcloth is cheap and easily cleaned, but wears out quickly. Floor coverings, such as carpets and matting, which hold dust and dirt, are unsuited to the kitchen, says a revised edition of Farmers' Bulletin No. 607, "The Farm Kitchen as a Workshop," issued by the United States Department of Agriculture.

Constant Scrubbing Injurious.

Whatever the material of the kitchen floor, or the covering used on it, constant scrubbing and the excessive use of soap and water will injure the surface. Care should be taken, therefore, not to drop food on the floor. Spreading paper where food is likely to be dropped or grease to be spattered will save labor in the end. A soft brush or dust mop will keep a floor in better condition than a broom, and make mopping less frequently necessary. A dish mop of hotel size, kept in a convenient place and used to remove drops of water or other liquids accidentally spilled, will save frequent scrubbing of the entire floor, and when dampened and wrung nearly dry can be used to remove spots or dust. If so used it will often prevent dirt from being carried from one part of the room to another.

KEEP SILVER IN BEST CONDITION

If Cleaned Regularly Little Time or Effort to Keep It Bright and Lustrous.

SULPHIDE CAUSES TARNISH

Glittering Surface May Be Obtained by Use of Friction Cleaners, by Electrolysis or by Boiling in Strong Solution.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

"All the table service was of silver and gold." Winifred was reading aloud from the society columns an account of a dinner, and as she read the last item her voice was full of awe. "Think of it, Nan; plates and everything, solid silver."

"I am thinking of it," said Nan, the practical one; "and I'm thinking also that I'm glad I haven't on my hands the cleaning of all those solid silver plates and everything." The flat silver that was given Jack and me when we were married is more than a plenty for me when cleaning day comes around. I like housework, but I do detest cleaning silver."

Many women feel as Nan did; but if silver is cleaned regularly, little time or effort is required to keep it bright and lustrous. The office of home economics of the United States Department of Agriculture gives the following directions on the care of silver:

Causes of Tarnish.

The tarnish on silver is silver sulphide, and is due to the sulphur compounds in the air where coal and gas are burned, and also in many foods, in wood, in rubber, and in some bleached and dyed materials.

This is the reason silversmiths rarely, if ever, use white cotton flannel for their cases of silver. Dryness prevents tarnish somewhat; so camphor, which absorbs moisture, is sometimes put into the silver drawer. Silver may be cleaned by the use of certain powders, pastes, and cloths, which clean by friction, by boiling it in a strong alkaline solution, or by a process known as electrolysis.

The materials which clean by friction are whiting, jewelers' rouge, and commercial pastes or powders. The noncommercial powders are mixed to a paste with water, ammonia, or alcohol, rubbed on the silver, allowed to dry, and then polished off with a soft cloth, chamol, or a brush. The result is bright, lustrous silver. Prepared cloths, sold under various trade names, also clean by friction. They are usually cotton flannel treated with a cleaning mixture, and are convenient but sometimes relatively expensive.

The alkaline solution for cleaning silver is made by dissolving four teaspoons borax, three teaspoons washing soda, or two teaspoons lye (caustic soda) in one quart water. The silver is placed in an old kettle or pan, covered with this solution, boiled for 10 minutes, and cooled in the water.

The Electrolytic Method.

One method of removing the tarnish from silver by electrolysis is the following:

Fill an enameled or agateware kettle partly full of water in which has been dissolved one teaspoon of either washing soda or baking soda and one teaspoon salt to each quart of water. Heat this solution to the boiling point, put in strips of aluminum or bright zinc, add the tarnished silver, and boil it. The silver must be covered completely by the water, and each piece must be in contact with the aluminum or the zinc, either directly or through other silver. When the tarnish has disappeared the silver should be removed from the kettle, washed, and dried with a clean, soft cloth. An aluminum kettle may be used, but it soon corrodes and must be cleaned, as only a clean, bright kettle serves the purpose. The zinc also grows dull and then is less active. It may be cleaned, however, in water containing a little hydrochloric (muriatic) acid, which is very poisonous and must be handled with extreme care.

Silver cleaned either in an alkaline solution or by electrolysis lacks luster, which cleaning by friction gives. It may be made bright, however, by a little rubbing with a soft cloth or chamol.

EXCELLENT RECIPES FOR VARIOUS ROLLS

Vegetable Combinations to Serve in Place of Meat.

Beans, Cowpeas, Lentils or Peas, With Different Kinds of Cheese and Bread Crumbs to Thicken
Are Recommended.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

By combining legumes, either beans of various kinds, cowpeas, lentils, or peas, with cheese of various kinds, and adding bread crumbs to thicken the mixture, a large variety of rolls may be made. Beans are usually mashed, but peas or small lima beans may be combined whole with bread crumbs and grated cheese, and enough of the liquor in which the vegetables have been cooked may be added to give the right consistency. Homemade cottage cheese, or ordinary American cheese may be used. The following recipes are recommended by United States Department of Agriculture food specialists:

Beefsteak Roast.

1 pound can kidney beans or equivalent quantity of cooked beans
1/2 pound grated cheese
Bread crumbs
Salt

Mash the beans or put them through a meat grinder. Add the cheese and sufficient bread crumbs to make the mixture stiff enough to be formed into a roll. Bake in a moderate oven, basting occasionally with butter and water. Serve with tomato sauce. This dish may be flavored with onions, chopped and cooked in butter and water.

Pimento and Cheese Roast.

1 cupful cooked lima beans.
1/2 pound cream cheese, commercial or home-made.
1 canned pimento, chopped.
Bread crumbs.

Put the first three ingredients through a meat chopper. Mix thoroughly and add bread crumbs until it is stiff enough to form into a roll. Brown in the oven, basting occasionally with butter and water.

Nut and Cheese Roast.

1 cupful grated cheese.
1 cupful bread crumbs.
1 cupful chopped English walnuts.
2 tablespoonfuls chopped onion.
1 tablespoonful butter.
Juice half a lemon.
Salt and pepper.

Cook the onion in the butter and a little water until it is tender. Mix the other ingredients and moisten with water, using the water in which the onion has been cooked. Pour into a shallow baking dish and brown in the oven.

HANDY CURTAIN STRETCHERS

Devices Soon Pay for Themselves in Saving Worker's Time and Wear and Tear on Curtains.

Curtain stretchers do not cost much, and soon pay for themselves in saving the worker's time and wear and tear on the curtains. Also, most kinds of curtains hang better if stretched into shape rather than ironed. In buying curtain stretchers it is worth while to pay a little more for a good, rigid kind that can also be used for drying blankets. Blankets dried on a stretcher keep their shape.

The pins in a curtain stretcher may be movable so as to fit all the scallops of a curtain, but stationary pins are more satisfactory and substantial. Instead of having pins on the stretcher, many housewives wrap up the frame with heavy ticking or tape and pin the curtains or blankets to their pieces. Some frames are tied together at the corners with strips of tape or muslin, but clamps cost very little and are much more convenient.

All Around the House

Pulled bread should snap when broken.

To make a new broom fast, soak in salt water before using.

Broiling and roasting are the preferred methods for cooking tender meats.

A teaspoonful of turpentine added to each boilerful of clothes will make them white.

A few drops of ammonia in warm water rubbed on with a cloth will restore color in a carpet.

Polished floors should be rubbed with a mixture of one-third linseed oil and two-thirds paraffin.

Mother's discarded dresses make lovely plaited skirts for the little girl, to be worn with middles.

Pour hot tomato sauce over fried mush, sprinkle with cheese and put into a hot oven for 10 minutes.

To clean a bathtub thoroughly, dip a piece of flannel in turpentine and go over the enamel. This will remove all stains.

Paint stains, no matter how hard and dry, can be easily removed by using equal parts of turpentine and ammonia.

HOME TOWN HELPS

TREES GIVEN EXPERT CARE

Body of Public-Spirited Los Angeles Men Recognizes the Importance of the Work.

Recognizing that the average citizen, or average laboring man, knows little or nothing about moving trees, a group of Los Angeles men have organized a company which has for its purpose the transplanting of trees, and the removal of trees and stumps about the city.

The tree and stump company is a decidedly mobile organization. Its men travel in automobiles, carrying their tools and tree-moving machinery in trailers behind the cars. Thus equipped they are prepared to go quickly to any location about the city wherever their services are required.

The mechanical appliances of tree transplanting, and tree and stump removal, are few and simple. There is an abundance of block-and-tackle equipment for the handling of large, heavy trees, and a compact windlass of special design is used for pulling trees out by the roots.

When a tree is merely to be removed, a stream of water played from a hose is used to dislodge the earth from the roots. If the tree has to be moved any great distance, heavy wire netting is wrapped about the roots to hold the earth intact. This is then re-enforced with rope, and the tree is jacked onto roller dollies for transportation. At its new location the wire netting is removed, and blocks and tackle are used to hoist it into position.—John Edwin Hogg in Popular Mechanics Magazine.

NEWCOMERS WANT TO KNOW

Questions Intending Residents Will Ask Before They Decide on Locating in Any Town.

Questions that people ask about your town before they decide to make it their town:

Attractiveness: Shall I like the town—its "atmosphere"? Does it have the beauty of shaded streets and other beautiful features? Is it a quiet, roomy, airy, well-lighted town? Does it have attractive public buildings and homes? Is it well paved? Is it clean in every sense?

Healthfulness: Will my family and I have a reasonable chance to keep well in that town? How about its water supply? Its sanitary system? Its methods of milk inspection? Its health department? Its hospitals? Is it without any congested district?

Education: Can I educate my family and myself in that town? How about its public schools—present and future? Its institutions of higher education or of business training? Its libraries? Its lecture and concert courses? Its newspapers? Its postal facilities?

People: Shall I like the people of the town? Are they "home folks" without false exclusiveness? Are they neighborly and friendly? Is the town free from factionalism?

Recreation: Can I have a good time in that town—I and my family? How about the theaters, museums, gymnasiums, parks, etc.? Are inviting opportunities for pleasure drives afforded by well paved streets?—L. N. Flint, Department of Journalism, University of Kansas.

Railroads to Plant Trees.

A tree planting campaign will be started all along the Rock Island lines, the American Forestry association announces. The plans as worked out include tree planting suggestions and beautification plans for the stations and the homes of the employees of that railroad. The Rock Island Magazine, the association says, will announce the outline of the work in the next issue of that publication which goes to all its workers. "This is one of the most constructive programs yet presented," said Charles Lathrop Pack, president of the American Forestry association. "The plans hook up with our educational campaign for studying trees now being introduced in the schools through our national referendum for the choice of a tree most typical of America. The association will send free tree-planting instructions to any who ask."

For Memorial Parks.

Members of Company C, 104th Engineers, are planning a memorial tree planting in Stacy Park, Trenton, New Jersey. A tablet is to be erected in the center of a cluster of six oak trees, to be planted to mark the memory of the six Trenton members of the organization who were killed in action, says the American Forestry Magazine. Another planting of 180 oak trees along the Lincoln highway is also arranged for, to perpetuate the memory of the 180 soldiers of Trenton and Mercer County, who died in the war. The American Forestry Association is registering all memorial trees in a national honor roll.

SUGGESTIONS ON RAISING CABBAGE

Plant Contains Large Quantities of Mineral Salts So Essential in Diet.

GIVE ATTENTION TO VARIETY

Select Richest Portion of Garden and Work into Soil as Much Rotted Manure as Can Be Spared—Prevent Work of Cutworms.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Most people have a fondness of cabbage, served in one way or another, as it contains large quantities of the mineral salts so essential in the diet. Early cabbage is especially desirable, as it furnishes green food at a time when it is needed.

In giving suggestions on growing cabbage, garden specialists of the United States Department of Agriculture say the proper variety must be planted. Some kinds require a longer period for their growth than others. Jersey Wakefield and Charleston Wakefield are most universally planted for the early crop, Jersey Wakefield being considered earliest of all. The variety known as All Seasons has a round, flattened head and is a good intermediate sort. Copenhagen Market is a large, round-headed early cabbage that is very much in favor among market gardeners. Late Flat Dutch and Danish Ballhead are considered the leading late varieties.

Start Plants Indoors.

Plants must be started indoors, in a hotbed, or be shipped from some point farther South where the season is advanced. If extra early cabbage is to be grown, one or two cigar boxes filled with fine soil and placed in a south window will form a seedbed for starting 100 to 200 cabbage plants. The little seedlings must be transplanted to larger boxes or to a cold frame when they begin to crowd each other in the seed boxes. Cabbage plants are quite hardy, and along the South Atlantic coast are grown in the open by the acre.

Plant early cabbage in the richest part of the garden, having previously worked into the soil all the rotted manure that can be spared and then added high-grade commercial fertilizer at the rate of ten pounds to every 100 feet of row. The fertilizer should be well mixed with the top 4 inches of soil over a space the full width of the row, which is generally 8 feet.

Do not plant cabbage on land where it was grown last year, especially if any of the heads were diseased or showed any kind of trouble. It is always a good plan to rotate crops, even in the small home garden. Cabbage is subject to several diseases, but fortunately these do not do much harm in small gardens. Insects, however, play havoc with the crop from the time it is planted. Cutworms are generally waiting in the soil during early spring to cut off the stems of the cabbage plants just at the surface of the ground.

Protect Plants From Cutworms.

The best remedy, or rather preventive, is to place bands or tubes of stiff paper around the stems of the plants as they are being set in the garden. Thin cardboard makes ideal plant protectors. By cutting the cardboard into strips about 8 inches wide, sections can be cut off and rolled around a lead pencil to form a tube. The protectors should extend an inch below the surface and at least 2 inches above. After the stems of the cabbage plants have become toughened and begin to grow rapidly the protectors can be taken off.

Cabbage worms, the eggs for which are laid by the light-yellow butterflies that are often seen flying about the cabbage plants, do a great amount of damage. Dusting the foliage and the heads with air-slaked lime, to which a little Paris green has been added, or spraying them with arsenate of lead, one ounce to a gallon of water, are both effective. There is no danger as the heads grow from the inside and the outer leaves, to which the poison is applied, are all removed.

Skinflint's Method.

A miserly old gentleman was accosted by a street beggar. "A bit of charity," whined the beggar. "I am not in the habit of giving money in the street," was the reply. "I don't want to make a display of my wealth—but here is my address," and he handed over a visiting card of one of his friends.—Barcelona L'Esquella.

A Useful Bird.

"I bought this parrot six months ago to reform him," admitted J. Fuller Gloom, "but soon gave up the attempt." "Ah! His profanity was too much for you?"

"No. I found it very comfortable to have my sentiments expressed so completely without being obliged to exert myself in the least."—Kansas City Star.

TIMES HAVE CHANGED

Hinks: Well they do say that time does wait for no man. Dinks: Not so! Why people buy stuff from us on time and we wait for it for years.

Consoling.

The years play topsy-turvy tricks. As often has been told one. The plucky young woman gets in time To be a pretty old one.

VEGETABLES ENTIRE YEAR FROM GARDENS

Accomplishment of Women in One New Mexico County.

Everything Tried in Dry-Land Section and Given Proper Attention Brought Good Results—Much Fruit Was Canned.

(Prepared by the United States Department of Agriculture.)

Women in Union county, New Mexico, are working to have on every farm a garden large enough to supply the family with vegetables the entire year, with a sufficient surplus for each housewife to can or dry enough vegetables for winter use.

The United States Department of Agriculture reports that the following is a part of what was accomplished last year in this county under the supervision of the home demonstration agent: A great many vegetables new to the community were tried out, such as Swiss chard, Chinese cabbage, asparagus and celery, and fruits like ever-bearing strawberries, rhubarb, garden lemons, and other varieties not previously raised. These were grown successfully. Grapes, peaches, plums, apples and apricots have been planted by many people who had not thought these fruits would grow in their county. This is a dry-land section where practically no attention has been given to the home garden.

Everything tried, and given proper attention, brought good results. Some failures were reported, due to lack of moisture and lack of care. Reports also showed that, besides all that was used fresh on the table, from 25,000 to 50,000 quarts of vegetables and fruits were canned in this county last year.

AVOID DODDER INFESTATION

Farmer Should Use Plants Known to Be Immune to Attacks of Pestiferous Weed.

The necessity of selecting plants immune to dodder infestation when cultivating newly cleared land was emphasized by a report which recently reached the United States Department of Agriculture concerning the destruction of an entire field of eggplant on a newly cleared field in Pennsylvania. So bad was the infestation that not a single fruit was formed on the parasitized plants and the entire field was destroyed. The dodder was determined as hazel dodder, a species not uncommon on hazel and other wild shrubs and on tick trefoil and other wild herbs, but never previously reported on cultivated plants. The department recommends that on land known to contain the seeds of dodder, farmers should use plants which are immune to attacks of the pest. The following plants are not susceptible to injury by dodder; corn, soy beans, velvet beans, cowpeas, and small grains such as oats, wheat, and rye. Potatoes and buckwheat, crops commonly used on newly cleared land, are not very likely to be injured by dodder, but truck crops should not be planted on land known to contain dodder seeds.

GOOD COLLAR IS ESSENTIAL

Every Farmer Should Plan to Prevent Sore Necks and Shoulders of Work Horses.

Now that the busy season is here, every farmer should make a careful examination of the supply of horse collars on hand and see to it that he has a good fitting collar for every horse he purposes to put to work. Sore shoulders and sore necks on farm horses are generally caused either by collars that do not fit or by hames that are not properly adjusted.

CAREFULLY SAVE DROPPINGS

Either Use for Fertilizer or Dispose of to Persons Who Can Make Good Use of Them.

No matter how small the flock the droppings should be carefully saved, stored, and either used as fertilizer for plants or disposed of to persons who can so use them to increase the fertility of the soil.

FAIR WARNING.

"You have appendicitis, sir," said the eminent specialist.
 "But, doctor," protested the patient, "I'm a poor man."
 "Rich or poor, your appendix must come out."
 "All right, doctor. Go ahead and operate, but when you get an appendix out if it looks to you like a new motorcar, I'll tell you in advance that you will be the victim of an optical illusion."—Minneapolis Tribune.

Individualism.

"I understand you called on the citizens of Crimmon Gulch to disarm."
 "Yes," replied Cactus Joe. "The idea met with great applause."
 "Has anybody disarmed?"
 "Not yet. While as populace agreed collectively that it was a great scheme, individually everyone of the boys said he'd like to see anybody who was man enough to take his gun away from him."

Common Incident.

"That diner over there must be hard to please."
 "Why so?"
 "He's called the head waiter half a dozen times and remonstrated with him."
 "Oh, he's merely trying to convince the head waiter that he's a safe person to be served a drink."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Lavish Spender.

"Do you hear from your son at college?"
 "Early and often," said Mr. Grab-corn grimly.
 "How is he progressing?"
 "Well, if he were not under age I'd say he was traveling rapidly toward bankruptcy."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

All Very Modern.

"You certainly have a modern flat."
 "Yes—disappearing beds, hidden telephone, camouflaged gas range, a folding up typewriter desk, for my study, nothing conspicuous."
 "Ah, I see."
 "And when a collector calls we even disappear ourselves."

Proprietries.

"Hiram," said Mrs. Cornstossel, "I want you to promise me one thing."

THE WOODS

BY DOUGLAS MALLOCH

BROTHERS AND SONS.

ON a dirty floor at a slimy bar in the anteroom of hell I have seen them stand with a devil's leer, I have heard the tales they tell—
 I have heard them brag of the brutish things, I have heard them boast of shame,
 Till I longed again for the Jewish God, for the God who smote with flame.
 And I wondered much if there lingered still not a dream of boyhood land, Not a tender thought of a mother's kiss or a touch of sister's hand.
 For we wander far, and the years go by, and the boyhood vision fades, Yet we are the sons of the mothers of men and brother to all the maids.
 And it is not there in the wild alone that the souls of men forget;
 In the house of pride, on the polished stair, where the gilded ones are met,
 I have heard the tale that is often told on the dirty bar-room floor.
 While the idle smiled, and the longer laughed, and the bestial asked for more.

For the thing we are is the thing we are, not the thing in garments new;
 And the coat that fits is the tailor's coat, but the man inside is you.
 It is such as I, it is such as you, that have made the jests and jokes—
 Yet we are the sons of the mothers of men and brother to all the maids.
 Yes, the sons we are of a motherhood, of a mother-love, divine,
 And I can not slander this mother yours—if I do I slander mine;
 Yes, the brothers are of a sisterhood of the sisters loved or lone,
 And you can not slander the least and say that the world shall spare your own.
 For a woman's name and a woman's fame they are sweet, and frail, as flowers;
 But the strength to shield and the arm to wield for the woman's name are ours.
 Let the God-made man keep his God-made trust till his life's last twilight fades—
 For we are the sons of the mothers of men and brother to all the maids.

Help Yourself.

The Australian sense of humor is well developed in private life, but in official circles it is often shut out by red tape barriers. For instance, it was most unfortunate that the federal government, which has caused a storm by raising legislators' salary without reference to taxpayers, should have indulged the following huge poster on behalf of the second peace loan: "Help the Digger—Help Your Country—Help Yourself." When the humor of this announcement was recognized by press and public, it lost its popularity with the government, which had no wish to be reminded that it had already set a good example in the art of helping oneself.

DESSERTS FOR OCCASIONS.

THE desserts we have every day become monotonous, so we welcome a change even if the preparation takes more time, the product is worth it.

Baked Apple Tarts.

Make flaky pastry by using cupful lard, scant half cupful boiling water. Mix and when well blended add three cupfuls of flour and a teaspoonful of salt. Chill the pastry and meanwhile core and peel enough apples to serve the family. Cook them until tender in a sirup made by boiling one cupful each of sugar and water together. When tender remove the apples to be chilled. The apples should be tender but keeping their shape. Roll the chilled pastry in a thin sheet and cut in rounds to nearly cover the apples. Cut out small triangles in the rounds and wet the edge, wrap the apple in the rounds and cover with a cap of pastry two inches in diameter. Brush the top with cold water before adjusting the cap, dredge with sugar and bake until the crust is brown. Serve with a spoonful of hard sauce piped on the top of each and pass the sauce left from the sirup in which the apples were cooked.

Chestnut Apple Amber.

Roll up one cupful of milk with the thinly shaved rind of half a lemon and pour it over two tablespoonfuls of bread crumbs. Remove rind. Beat to a cream the yolks of two eggs with one-quarter of a cupful of sugar and three tablespoonfuls of butter; to this add a quarter of a cupful each of chestnut puree and apple puree. Mix well, add the strained juice of half a lemon and pour into a well buttered pudding dish, the edges of which have been lined with rounds of paste. Bake until firm in a moderate oven. Allow to cool, then cover with a meringue using the whites of two eggs, and two tablespoonfuls of sugar. Dredge with sugar, decorate with candied cherries and return to the oven to brown.

Butterscotch Pudding.

Melt one cupful of brown sugar and two tablespoonfuls of butter until brown but not burned; pour over the mixture two cupfuls of boiling milk and simmer until the sugar is dissolved. Meanwhile soak a thick slice of bread in cold water until soft, press all the water from it and beat in the yolks of two eggs, a pinch of salt and a scant teaspoonful of vanilla. Pour into a buttered baking dish and bake in a pan of water for forty-five minutes. Beat the whites of the eggs until stiff, add two tablespoonfuls of powdered sugar and the juice of half a lemon; beat again, spread over the pudding and brown in a moderate oven. Serve hot or cold.

Date Jelly.

Take envelope of gelatin, cupful of cold water, mix and soak for a few minutes, then add two cupfuls of boiling water, three-fourths of a cupful of sugar; one-half cupful of lemon juice and a package of dried dates. Turn into a mold first dipped into cold water, and chill. Serve with plain or whipped cream.

IMPROVE LOOK OF MAILBOX

One of the Best of Schemes is to Give it the Appearance of a Birdhouse.

The usual R. F. D. mailbox is a simple affair of tin and wood—efficient but ugly. It stands out in front of the house and spoils the looks of the place.

What's the remedy for this? Build more stately boxes.

Here you see a mailbox that is made like a birdhouse. It is divided into two floors—the lower one for papers, magazines, and packages, the upper one for letters. Each floor has its own separate door, which the mailman opens when he arrives. The upper floor is lined with tin to protect the letters from a possibly leaky roof. If you decide to try out this birdhouse-mailbox, don't be surprised if you find the makings of a bird's nest in the midst of your mail some fine morning.—Popular Science Monthly.

COMMUNITY HAS NEW IDEA

Blanket Insurance Practically Covering Whole Town is Said to Have Had Excellent Results.

All the workers employed by the various industries located at Kingsport, Tenn., have been insured against death, sickness and accident under a single group policy the New York Times records.

In all about two thousand persons employed by ten large concerns are thus protected and as the population of the town of Kingsport is estimated at about 10,000, almost every family in the community will receive a financial benefit in case of accident, sickness or death overtaking one of its bread winning members.

The policy has been in effect for some months. According to officials of the insurance company this is the first instance known where a whole community has adopted a standardized plan of insurance. The experiment is attracting the attention of many other municipalities, especially public officials who are interested in community service.

A prominent community worker has said that the prospective financial benefit to be derived by individuals under the policy was of far less importance than the general good which has resulted from the quickening of the conscience of the whole Kingsport community.

Garden Cities for London.

London is trying to work out its housing crisis by building little garden cities about twenty miles outside its limits. These experiments in whole-sale home construction are being carried on by the enterprise of private capital backed up with the generous government subdivision that is being given to all home construction projects.

The profits of the promoting company will be limited to seven per cent of the investment, the proceeds over and above this amount going back into town improvements.

The ideal house, so much talked of in England, that resulted from the Daily Mail competition will be given a practical try-out in this new city. The name of the place when completed will be Welwyn Garden City.—New York Post.

Plant Vines on Indoor Lattice.

In altering old homes rather than in the construction of new ones, lattices and grills seem to appeal to the interior decorators' scheme of things.

The same manner of treatment is given a too expansive bay window, where, instead of curtains, decorative jars holding climbing vines are placed at the sides. The vines will soon make the lattice a thing of beauty.

The use of the growing vines on the lattice indoors is growing in favor, the plainness of the walls of the breakfast room is relieved by the green of the climbing vines.

Foolish Question.

"There goes Lieutenant Podkins. He has traveled thousands of miles under water."

"In a submarine?"

"Of course. Did you think he tied paving stones to his heels to keep him down and held his breath?"—Birmingham Age-Herald.
